

PARTICIPANT GUIDE

What is COPE?

Challenging Outdoor Personal Experience (COPE) is a national program of Scouting America.

The program includes group initiative games, trust events, low course events and high course events. Some activities involve a group challenge, while others develop individual skills and agility. Participants climb, swing, balance, jump, rappel and devise solutions to a variety of problems. Most participants achieve much more than they imagined they could.

COPE is designed to meet the needs of people who are seeking ways to challenge and expand their physical and mental abilities. As a non-competitive program, COPE permits every participant to succeed. The group activities are ideal for enhancing the leadership and teamwork of Scout units and other groups. Activities that challenge individuals can be used to promote personal growth.

Who can participate?

Groups of 8 to 30 people who are seeking to expand their physical and mental abilities should consider participating in COPE. Group activities are designed to develop teamwork, communication and leadership abilities among many other skills.

Guidelines for non-Scouting groups:

Anyone 13 years or older can participate in the COPE course.

Guidelines for Scouts:

Scouts must be at least 13 years old to participate in the full COPE course. Webelos can participate in COPE games, climb the rappelling wall and work their way across the traversing wall. The Guide to Safe Scouting does not provide for Webelos and younger Scouts to actively participate in the full COPE experience. Once a Scout joins Scouts BSA, they are eligible to participate in most low course activities. Once they reach the age of 13, they are permitted to do high course events.

What to expect

Group Initiative Games to help participants learn to work together through communication to achieve their goals.

Trust Events designed to develop trust in the mind of the individual and with the group as a whole.

Low Course Events present team problems and/or obstacles that challenge groups both mentally and physically. These group activities require the interaction of all members to accomplish a task and allow groups to work through their objectives to prepare them for bigger challenges, such as a high ropes course or climbing tower.

High Course Events consist of elements suspended between 20 and 50 feet above the ground between wood poles or steel posts. Participants challenge themselves to climb and/or traverse the elements by themselves, in pairs or with support from the larger group.

When is the COPE course offered?

COPE is offered primarily on weekends from mid-March to May and from August to mid-November. During June and July, the COPE course is used by our Camp Geiger Summer Camp.
